

About Us:

The Urban Planning and Design Institute of Shenzhen (UPDIS) is a comprehensive urban planning, design and research institute dedicated to the scientific development of both urban and rural China. It strives to create and design sustainable places to achieve a high quality of life. As one of the largest interdisciplinary urban planning institutes in China, UPDIS has shared the opportunities and challenges of rapid urbanization in the past 28 years. Since establishment, we have finished a wide range of practice across the border of China.

The Internship Program:

We provide the internship to students who are interested in the urbanization context in China, and wish to work and learn through the projects. The projects the intern will be involved in depend upon the interests and skills of the student—may involve urban design, research into best practices, and master planning etc. We are also expecting interns to complete a sub-project under the main project they might get involved.

Field of current research projects:

- Urban water system
- Low carbon and ecological development
- Transportation planning
- China's rural planning
- Urban villages and urban regeneration
- Public spaces
- Urban design
- Community Empowerment
